National Geographic Celebrates World Wildlife Day with WILD VET ADVENTURES:

SAVING ANIMALS AROUND THE WORLD WITH DR. GABBY WILD

UN World Wildlife Day (3/3/21) is a celebration of wildlife to remind us of the urgent need to protect it. Inspire your little nature lover with National Geographic Kids' WILD VET ADVENTURES: SAVING ANIMALS AROUND THE WORLD WITH DR. GABBY WILD where you will travel the planet to meet some of Earth's most incredible critters through the eyes of adventurous wildlife veterinarian, Dr. Gabby Wild.

Whether it's pioneering elephant acupuncture, or treating Jane Goodall's chimps, Dr. Wild's vibrant conservation mission has taken her around the globe to work with zoos, museums, top conservation organizations, and universities. Her non-profit foundation is dedicated to the protection of the world's most endangered creatures.

From jaguar dentistry to darting wild monkeys for care, kids get a front row seat to exotic animal behavior, their quirky natural traits, and curious facts galore. Over 80 animals are covered:

from regal lions to playful pandas, fearsome Gilamonsters to creepy tarantulas, and more.

About Dr. Gabby Wild:

Dr. Gabby Wild has traveled the world to save animals. From pioneering elephant acupuncture to treating Jane Goodall's chimpanzees in Uganda.

Kids often recognize Dr. Wild as the veterinarian from Animal Jam Classic (over 130 million registered users) where she has answered questions from children about wild animals.

Some of her noted recent collaborations: World Wildlife Fund, National Geographic Society, Jane Goodall Institute, Harvard University, Oxford University, The American Museum of Natural History, The Bronx Zoo, Zoological Society of London, Natural History Museum (London), and Muséum National d'Histoire Naturelle (Paris).

American-born and raised shortly there after in France and later in Boca Raton, FL, when Dr. Wild is not traveling to save animals, she is an emergency room doctor and veterinary surgeon at The Animal Surgical Center on Long Island.

She received her Doctor of Veterinary Medicine from Cornell University, Master's of Public Health from the University of Minnesota, and is also a published genetics researcher.

About UN World Wildlife Day:

United Nations World Wildlife Day is the most prominent global annual event dedicated to wildlife and raising awareness of the world's wild fauna and flora and the challenges they face.
